Candidates Seeking School Board Posts

George F. Olesen, Jr.

George F. Olesen, Jr., 3 term former member of the Cambridge school committee, has announced his candidacy for the Andover school committee.

Mr. Olesen resides with his wife, Maureen, and two children, Mary Beth and John at 2 Joseph Street. The children are students at West Elementary.

Mr. Olesen, a sales representative for the Courier Corporation, is a graduate of the Cambridge public schools. He earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration at Boston College.

In forwarding his candidacy, Mr. Olesen pointed to his previous experience on the Cambridge school committee. While on that committee, George introduced and gained adoption of a motion to have the Deans of Education from Harvard, Boston College and Boston University serve as a voluntary screening board in the selection of a new Superintendent of Schools. Other accomplishments include a school administration survey by outside personnel and strengthening of the guidance program and improving special education programs.

Mrs. Olesen also cited his recent work here in Andover where he has served this year on the sub-committee created by the School Committee to study the budget and his participation on the committee to study alternative schools. Both these committees have provided him an opportunity to gain new insight into what he terms the plight of education in Andover.

Carl B. Sykes

Carl B. Sykes, has announced his candidacy for the Andover School Committee. With a background of 20 years working in the field of communications arts, including public relations, training and filmmaking, Mr. Sykes now devotes his full time to career education. His newly launched firm, "Career Communications," produces programs to help young people explore career possibilities and career values.

"Career education is now just in its formative stage," says Mr. Sykes. "Like all guidance work it has a pretty low priority at our schools. But good career and occupational education is terribly important. It has to be given a higher priority. If not, we are short-changing our young people. I want to encourage the development and implementation of new and better career education programs at the Andover schools - at all levels, elementary, junior high and high school. The number of young people who graduate from our high school without an inkling of what they intend to do with their lives is appalling. And many go on and graduate from college and still don't know what they want to do or become. Our school system has a responsibility to help our young people find themselves and get on the track to constructive, satisfying, rewarding careers. I feel I can be of value to the Andover School System in achieving a truly effective career guidance program with little or no increase in budget.

"I think we need in the system a greater awareness of the needs of each individual student, or put another way, a greater recognition of the student as an individual. I think we need to help students develop stronger motivation, clarify their values, and improve their relationship with others and their views of themselves. A

Chamber Plan, Travel Succumb To Austerity

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

Riding an austerity theme and wielding a sharp knife, the selectmen pared the general town budget by $133,215 during a work session in the town house Tuesday night.

Working for about three hours and examining the suggested areas for cutting presented by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, the board in near-unanimous agreement on many items, managed to work toward their prospective goal of reducing the overall original budget presentation by $200,000.

Falling in the austerity move Tuesday night was an account, "out-of-state travel," which means no attendance at conferences for local administrators this year, unless they are held within the state, or nearby New England states.

Also being cut was the proposed joining with other Greater Lawrence communities in the formation of an industrial development arm of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce.

School Budget Compromise

By Linda S. Corbett

The Andover School Committee Tuesday night approved an $8,321,000 budget for 1974-75, which falls somewhere between the Committee's previous bottom guidelines and what the administration said it needed to maintain current services.

The compromise figure, which includes $1,715,352 for expenses and $6,605,648 for salaries, is still expected not to increase the school's portion of the tax rate. It may, in fact, reduce taxes a little.

Several "iffy" items of past deliberations were given the okay and will be included if the new budget now gets FinCom's okay and passes the April 1 Town Meeting. Those include current level of busing, seventh and eighth grade athletics and girls' athletics, driver education, the summer Deerjump Program, and instrumental music.

Administration priorities that were not included, were $43,000 for program assessment in math and language arts, $10,000 for career education, $25,000 for a security system, $24,000 for fixed assets, $18,000 for the Bancroft roof and $15,000 for the Library account.

There also may be some casualties in the teaching ranks, because there is to be no new hiring, and also if salary negotiations don't turn out as the School Committee hopes.

Committeeman William Lane said the salary figure was based on the assumption that the Committee could settle salary negotiations on a percentage increase that he thinks is "grossly underestimated."

Chairman Frank Griggs said it was his personal opinion that should the salary figures not be enough, the administration would once again - as this year - have to go into the system to find the extra funds, and not to the Town.

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert had already indicated that further cuts within the system would have to come in the form of people. He said the system would already be 12 persons short of the current year. Six present staffers will have to be transferred to two core evaluation teams for the 766 program, he said. In addition, the recent program assessment results show a serious need for six persons to be assigned to remedial classes.

The School Committee had been aiming at an $8,242,000 budget that would not increase taxes, while the administration had claimed that it would need at least $8.4 million to maintain the current level of services. More

Rationing A Welcome Event

By Linda S. Corbett

At first the idea of gasoline rationing in peacetime America seemed about as unlikely as limiting apples with which to make the proverbial pie.

But by the beginning of this week the announcement of the odd-even system to come was welcome indeed to gas stations, motorists, Police and well, just about anyone who needs a vehicle to get anywhere these days.

The voluntary process of getting gas on odd or even days, depending on the last number of your license plate, is expected to cut waiting lines in half, beginning next week, as it has in Oregon where the idea was initiated.

Meanwhile, local stations continue to do land office pumping, most of them running through their day's quota by 11 a.m., and causing untold problems for late risers.

George Quinn at the Shawsheen Plaza Sunoco on North Main Street reports that cars start lining up by 5:45 a.m., and he doesn't open till 7. Quinn, who usually has pumped his quota by 10 o'clock, leaves a special line open for school buses, he says, so they won't have to keep kids waiting in the dark.

The selectmen this week allayed the fears of motorists - particularly non-parents - who feared that buses are taking gas that would otherwise go into their tanks. The Board has passed out federal allocation forms to stations that serve buses, and the amount that goes into the buses, will be returned to them on top of their regular allotments.

Quinn says Sunoco is one of the better of the major oil companies at keeping up with its regular deliveries. The problem, he says, is that companies figure their monthly allotments as 10 per cent less than the same month a year ago.

What they don't figure is the normal 5 to 7 per cent increase in gas used each year, "so overall you're talking close to 20 per cent less than normal," he says.

There's also strong evidence that while "filling stations" aren't filling up, "service stations" aren't servicing as much either. Quinn adds that the gas shortage has cut tremendously into "inside work." People aren't bothering with oil and lube jobs and repairs as much now, he says.

"Inside work," he explains, is based on mileage. When people cut down on their mileage, they don't need as many other services. In addition, he says, people are simply neglecting maintenance because the price of gas has gone up and is cutting into their total budgets for transportation. They can't afford it.

At least one motorist admits that he doesn't have the stations check under the hood because he's "embarrassed" with the long lines behind him. Every once in a while he buys a quart of oil "to go" and checks himself when he gets home.

At Sie's Texaco, down on Route 125 at Salem St., inside work is suffering too. Partly, Sie says, because there used to be more time between cars to work inside, and also because people aren't leaving their cars so much.

One amazing thing, he says, is how many people are turning up with "broken gauges."

A woman will come in and say she's only half full, but it will only take 65 cents worth to fill the tank, he says. Her answer is "I don't think my gauge is working properly."

Sie has been trying to open for gas between 8 and 9 a.m. At 9 he puts a "Last Car" sign card on the back car in either direction.

But Tuesday, he said, someone took the card off and threw it on the ground, and the next thing he knew, there were 15 more cars in line.

"You always get some people that aren't very nice," he says.

One station that hasn't been losing "inside work" because it offers no other services than gasoline, is the Village Annex Texaco on North Main.

Their daily quota usually lasts till around 3 p.m., according to an out-of-breath spokesman, who quickly added, "I've got to go now. I've got a line of cars way down."

"Way down" used to run past Friendly's, and the fire and police stations. But the line constituted such a safety problem (several cars were ticketed for parking in front of fire and police lanes), it was rerouted down Pearson Street instead. The move has also made the folks at Friendly's considerably more so, as customers can once again drive in and out of their parking lot freely.

The attendants at the Andover Gulf on Main Street, whose line sometimes has gone all the way down Chestnut St. and around the Central Street corner, report that people are behaving pretty well this week, and "thank goodness," they haven't had to call the police for a repeat of last Thursday's performance.

A fellow sneaked into line that day and refused to move when the attendants refused to serve him. The officer finally managed to persuade him to leave.

In fact, Police Officer Richard Enos this week had more praise for gasoline station attendants who are trying to be fair and friendly, than the customers they serve.

There have been incidents at

THE LONG LINE. This is a view of Chestnut Street in the early morning hours as motorists line up for their quota of gasoline. The scene is typical of all gasoline stations in the area, but the situation is expected to get better next week when a voluntary "rationing" program is instituted.

many of the stations, he said. Tuesday, for instance, at the Shawsheen Sunoco, a man tanked up to the tune of more than $8. He then drove out of the station without paying, allegedly becoming impatient waiting for them to take his money.

"We know who he was," Enos added.

Major problems have been with blocked streets and drives, he went on.

In spite of "No Live Parking" signs in front of the fire station, he said, people continued to queue up there. An officer in uniform would go ask them to move because it was "emergency entrance," and the people would argue, that "I'm in line," or "I'm about out of gas."

In some cases a cruiser would try to get out with its lights flashing and a motorist would look the other way or straight ahead as if he didn't notice," Enos said, adding that offenders were of both sexes.

Enos added that some "very disappointed citizens" left the Police Station after begging for a gallon of gas to get home on.

But, he explained, the town vehicles had quite a shortage themselves last week - the reason sidewalks and streets weren't cleared as quickly as usual during Saturday's snowstorm.

The Police Department was getting gas from Public Works until Friday, he said, then some surplus from the fire department when DPW needed theirs for the snow.

The town, he explains, gets its gas on contract from Gulf Oil. While it gets the same amount as last year - instead of 10 per cent less as the service stations - that doesn't take into account such things as more major storms.

One way of easing the problem, Enos suggested, might be if stations would let you get a full tank. If you only get $2, he said, that'll get you to work and back and you'll be in line again the next day.

He said he also hoped there would be more cooperation from townspeople.

"People just don't seem ready to accept this situation," he said. "Thank goodness they're not in England where they're really bad off."

Some of the townspeople have had complaints of their own, too.

"Sure I waited in line in front of the fire station," one woman said. "I saw the 'no parking' signs, but if I left room, someone would cut in front of me."

An elderly couple told of waiting in line an hour, only to get up to the pump to be told that the quota had been sold for the day.

"It seems so arbitrary," said another gal, who said the same thing happened to her three times in one day. "The least they could do is warn you while you're back in line."

"When they literally run out of gas as they were a couple weeks ago," she said, "then you can understand. But just to all of a sudden say 'that's all for today' after you've been waiting and waiting - that's too much."

But, even in the bleakest times there are happy stories here and there. A Good Samaritan has turned up over at Doherty School for instance - a volunteer who spends the day waiting in line time and again to fill up teachers' tanks.

The special sessions of the registrars are scheduled as follows:

Saturday, Feb. 9, town house, 12 noon to 10 p.m.

Selectmen

In taking the action not to join in the Greater Lawrence group, half of the $30,000 total cost to be borne by the chamber, the selectmen said they were supporting the action taken by the Industrial Development Commission which earlier this year on a 5-3 vote rejected joining the proposed agency.

The action, still dependant on town meeting action, makes Andover the first to indicate it would not join in the Chamber office.

North Andover officials have indicated they would support the effort to become a member at town meeting. Lawrence and Methuen are still considering the matter.

The chamber proposal was to provide an industrial development professional in their office along with a staff to provide present and proposed industrial and commercial tenants for the area communities with information and assistance when requested.

The out-of-state travel accounts are presented annually to provide funds for various department heads to attend national and regional conferences dealing with their particular areas of work.

When the matter was examined Tuesday night, there was question as to whether the item should be stricken.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin said that while the conferences are beneficial and most helpful to the various department heads, in a year of austerity, as requested by the selectmen, the effort has to begin somewhere.

He said that in cases where association meetings were scheduled within the state or were nearby, then these were budgeted.

In some cases, there was need to include the funds for travel, such as in the water department where employees who will be working at the new water treatment plant need training at a Troy, New York plant. In this case the only cost is for transportation and lodging, since the plant provides the training.

There were several areas of the budget where items were picked out and dropped, at the suggestion of the manager. Included were reduction or postponement of new equipment for town departments and in some cases reduction in staffing some offices where part-time help is now used.

The budget examination by the selectmen was the result of study by both the manager and his assistant Sheldon Cohen who have been reviewing budget requests with department heads these past few weeks.

Further examination of the budget is expected within the next week, as the board passed over several expenditures Tuesday night, deferring action until additional information can be provided by the manager.

Also due for consideration are the various special articles in the warrant seeking funds, which may result in further financial reductions in keeping with the statement from the board a few weeks ago when they reported all efforts aimed at stabilizing the tax rate for 1974.

Sykes

good career education program goes much deeper than taking a plant tour.

"Recently I have spent time talking with some of Andover's guidance counselors. I even had the privilege of showing one of my career ed filmstrips to a grade class. Our counselors are working on some good ideas. They will need help, encouragement and more authority from the administration to implement their ideas. I encourage them in what they are trying to do.

"But I am convinced there is a lot of good going on in the Andover School System. It is too bad that you rarely hear anyone talk about it. People seem to want to knock the system. I think this results from a lack of communication between the schools and the people who are paying the bills. When is the last time a school teacher or principal called parents to report something good their children were doing? Good communications don't need to cost a lot of money.

"In talking with parents in a door-to-door visitations the past two weeks, I find there is much misunderstanding between the schools and the public. This shouldn't be!

"Some parents are astonished to learn some of the facts about Andover schools. Some are critical of new or 'experimental' programs without realizing that some are optional.

"A survey indicates there is both praise and criticism for three Andover educational system.

"In general, it would seem our school system needs plenty of good, positive thinking, and better public relations. Morale among teachers seems low, administrators seem frustrated and many parents are unhappy. One would think our school system is some kind of a 'Watergate.' Well, it isn't. Let's begin to understand it, make changes that need to be made, and work together to have a first-class educational system we can be proud to talk about.

"There should be but one goal in an educational program: providing a quality education for every pupil. I believe this can be accomplished with economy. Some impressive changes can be made without spending more money. In my business the mark of a good program is quality with economy. It should be that way in the Andover School System."

Mr. Sykes is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, 1950, where he majored in Economics and also drove a taxicab. He has worked on a newspaper, was a copy writer at an advertising agency and finally became a script writer for business films. He entered his own business in 1960 making training and public relations films in the Detroit market. He has worked in the Boston area since 1966 in the same line. He entered the career education field in July 1973 after reflecting upon the need to help America's young people discover satisfying life goals.

He has worked with young people in the Boy Scouts of America, with the Junior Chamber of Commerce and as a field worker in prisons and reformatories.

He resides with his wife Natalie at 129 Elm St., and is the father of a daughter, Hilary, a student at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Olesen

George's platform is based on fiscal responsibility and quality education. He asks - "Are the Andover taxpayers receiving full value on each tax dollar allocated to education?" Is the per pupil cost ratio reflected in standardized testing results?

When elected, Mr. Olesen will sponsor motions that will, 1) Create a written policy and rules for the School Committee, and 2) Make the school administration responsive to the policies of the School Committee.

Ensemble Rehearsing

The Merrimack Valley Wind Ensemble under the direction of James Harwood is busily rehearsing Wednesday nights in preparation for their concert on March 1 at Bradford College.

The group encompasses wind, brass and percussion players from the Merrimack Valley area, and its members consist of students, housewives, businessmen and anyone else who wants to play for the enjoyment that can be derived from "keeping in shape" on their instrument.

Additional players are needed in all sections of the band. All interested parties are asked to contact Mr. Harwood at Phillips Academy or just bring their instrument to rehearsal at Graves Hall at the Academy any Wednesday evening at 8 p.m.

Films of 30s On Bill At Museum

Famous French faces from the thirties appear on the screen at the Museum of Fine Arts, through March 1. Comedies, musicals, costume dramas, gangster films and sheer cinematic poetry suggest the variety of subjects brought together by the Museum's winter series. French Film of the Thirties is striking in its richness of visual imagery and diversity of styles and themes.

Jean Gabin, Raimu, Michele Morgan, Michel Simon and Annabella appear in the roles which made them famous. Classics by the great directors - Renoir, Clair, Pagnol, Carne and Vigo - vividly recall the decade when sophisticated American audiences were dazzled by the first sound films from abroad.

Films rarely shown in this country are on the schedule: Marius, part of Marcel Pagnol's monumental trilogy, A Nous la Liberte by Rene Clair, the guiding light of early French film, and Le Crime de Monsieur Lange by the great humanist Jean Renoir.

The films will be shown Thursday and Friday evenings at 5:30 in the Museum Lecture Hall. They are in French with English subtitles and run approximately 100 minutes.

Participants In Interim Program

Several Andover students attending Bradford College are participating in a new interim term program. They are Miss Paula Geary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Geary, 39 Mary Lou Lane and Keith Kauppila, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aimo Kauppila, 27 Greenwood Road, who are taking a course in "Early American Houses and their Furnishings."

Miss Andrea Gulezian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vahey S. Gulezian, 10 Arthur Road, is studying satire; Martha Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Rogers, 55 Sunset Rock Road, is assisting a teacher of physical education, and Diana MacInnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacInnes, 5 Hawthorne Circle, is participating in a survival course in the New Hampshire mountains.

The January interim term is designed to provide an opportunity for independence and a change of pace from the regular school year, with emphasis on in-depth study in an area of the student's choice.

Dialogue Seminar Series Set

The Dialogue Seminar Series, beginning this Friday at the Addison Gallery of Art, is a Phillips Academy student-organized opportunity for the community to hear from and speak to articulate young artists.

Two young wood sculptors, Robert Strini of the Rhode Island School of Design, and Robert Burden of the Hopkins Center at Dartmouth College, will lead off as the artist's end of the first dialogue tomorrow evening. The Addison Gallery's new student lounge is the place, and 8:30 p.m. the time for Dialogue Seminars this Friday and the three succeeding Friday evenings. After a break for PA's spring vacation, the Dialogue Seminar Series will resume in April.

Steve Miller, PA senior who is coordinating the series, said he hoped townspeople and student artists in particular would be on hand to supply the other end of the dialogue -- to hear, question and exchange ideas with the young artists. "We want dialogue between the participants and the artists - that's what the name means," Miller said. "These won't be lectures. No formal structure at all."

A student group has designed the Dialogue Seminar Series to give participants an idea of what is going on in contemporary art by speaking with young articulate artists in various media. A primary purpose is to give student artists an idea of what it is like to survive as a professional artist in society.

Robert Strini has just returned from study in Rome on a "Prix de Rome" fellowship, now teaches at Rhode Island School of Design. Robert Burden is exhibitions coordinator at Dartmouth's Hopkins Center, as well as a professional artist. He coordinated the sculpture show on display at the Addison Gallery now and through Feb. 24.

Candidates Scheduled Saturday

Andover residents can "Meet the Candidates" for office in the town election at West Jr. High School cafeteria, Saturday morning Feb. 9, from 10 a.m. to noon. Sponsored by the League of Women Voters the two hour coffee is open to all Andover voters.

The meeting will be informal and give the candidates the opportunity to discuss the issues with the voters over a cup of coffee.

A formal candidates night will be held on Feb. 26.

Complementary School A Possible Imbalance Solution

Headmaster Theodore Sizer of Phillips Academy presented the "complementary school" concept to the Andover League of Women Voters Tuesday, as a possible solution to racial imbalance laws, and as a means of broadening the educational experience of youngsters who otherwise "will only see people like himself all the time."

"It makes one bleed that certain kinds of kids, if they have the money, can avail themselves of the opportunities while others can't," he told the 50-some women gathered for their winter luncheon at the Indian Ridge Country Club.

"It is very hard to find every need within the confines of a single school," he went on, suggesting that a complementary school plan might make it possible for youngsters to spend a year in private school, or a month in a residential experience, or serve an apprenticeship. Or, he said, a complementary school might be a place for youngsters to go every other Friday afternoon to mix with youngsters of varying backgrounds - at least initially at public expense.

"It is politically possible that a town like Andover could pay a reasonable expense to have its youngsters find a variety of experiences," he went on. "It is also in the public school's interest to provide various opportunities to its youngsters."

Sizer cited the new 766 Program as a possible precedent. It provides that youngsters with special needs should have appropriate education. But, Sizer said, the special ed child has a much greater range of options than the "normal child."

He also called the complementary school concept a possible means of stopping the spread of the "cancer" of racial imbalance.

The intent of the racial imbalance act is as noble today as when it was passed in the '60s, he said. "But the remedies that have been proposed only constitute additional failure."

Politically, they were designed to lessen racial animosities by mixing youngsters and parents. "But there is no evidence that mixing has lessened tensions or increased understanding," Sizer said.

Proponents also said that if youngsters had equality of educational opportunities, they would learn better and their tests would show no differences, he went on. "But the evidence does not fully support this argument either."

What evidence does show, he said, is that academic achievement is primarily the result of the income and social standing of the parents, and has little in fact to do with class size, region, curriculum, and the like.

There should be more interest, therefore, in "social imbalance," not "racial imbalance," he said, adding that racial "overlap" is actually increasing as the wealth of blacks increases more rapidly than that of whites.

There are two alternatives to the racial imbalance laws, he went on: to rescind them or find alternatives.

To rescind them, even though they're imperfect, would be disastrous, he said. "And it is politically unlikely that the neighborhood school would lose out to regionalization, 'or that our youngsters would not go to class-segregated schools."

But youngsters of different backgrounds could meet via another, complementary school.

"This suggestion would undercut political opposition, but the youngsters would mix and learn that people who are different aren't bad, aren't scary, and aren't hostile," Sizer said.

They would have to meet for specific projects, he added, such as a regional orchestra, clearing a forest, building an addition to a nursing home. "Getting together just to get together, is disaster," he said.

He added that Andover's reference area in such a project would probably be the Merrimack Valley, not Boston. Some problems facing Greater Lawrence can only be solved regionally, he added, "though I know some people would disagree."

Sizer also said that he increasingly sees PA's role as a complement to, not an alternative to, public high schools. "Youngsters could come here to get those things that we especially can offer," he said, citing especially PA's "Outward Bound" program as one that would benefit youngsters of many backgrounds.

The higher elevation figure applies to the upstream end of the designated area while the lower elevation applies to the downstream end. The flood plain area boundary elevation for any land is determined by interpolation between the flood plain elevation figures shown in the above tables on the basis of its relative distance from the upstream and downstream ends.

AMEND Section IV.A. (Use Regulations-Permitted Uses) by adding a new Paragraph #5 as follows:

5. In Flood Plain Area, - such areas are subject to control in all zoning districts of the Town of Andover. (See Section VI.H.).

The portion of any lot delineated as being within a flood plain area may be used to meet the area and yard requirements for the district in which the remainder of the lot is situated.

AMEND Section IV.B. (Table of Use Regulations) by adding the following new Paragraph under NOTE:

NOTE: All uses listed below are subject to the special permit requirements of flood plain areas where applicable.

AMEND Section VI. (Other Requirements) by adding the following new Paragraph H.:

2. New construction or substantial improvements of non-residential structures within the flood plain area must have the lowest floor (including basement) elevated to or above the I.R.F. level or, together with attendant utility and sanitary facilities, be floodproofed up to the I.R.F. level.
3. The proposed structure or use or site development plan shall not be contrary to the purposes of flood plain area management as set forth in Section I.a. (above) or the permitted uses in the zoning district in which the flood plain is located.
4. The Board of Appeals shall ascertain that the request has been referred to the Conservation Commission, the Board of Health and, where industrial lands are involved, the Industrial Commission, and reported upon within 15 days after the public hearing.
5. The building and site development plans shall be prepared by an engineer well qualified in floodproofing techniques and flood plain area development. Plans for a proposed major site development should include existing and proposed buildings, original and final grade elevations, showing contours at 1' elevations with the I.R.F. line plotted on these contours, and the methods of drainage. Minor developments must plot the I.R.F. line on the property under consideration.
6. All structures and site development shall be in compliance with Federal and State regulations including "criteria for land management and use", (as amended from time to time) and set forth in the National Flood Insurance Program.

AMEND Section VII. (Nonconformance) by numbering the existing paragraph under "B" as #1 and adding a new Paragraph #2 as follows:

2. In flood plain areas, if buildings or structures in existence at the time of the adoption of this bylaw shall have been damaged by fire, explosion or other catastrophe to the extent of 80% of its assessed value, such buildings or structures shall not be restored unless the Board of Appeals, acting under Section VI.H. grants a special permit. If damaged to a lesser degree, the building may be restored or rebuilt provided that the location is not changed so as to increase the flood hazard, and the area and volume of the building is not increased. An opinion from the Town Assessor shall be requested in determining the extent of damage.

Dr. Lieberman To Address Valley Group

If your child, preschool, kindergarten, primary, or secondary grade, is having trouble in school or in getting along in society or with writing, reading, speaking, seeing, thinking or arithmetic you may find the next regular meeting of the Merrimack Valley Association for Children with Learning Disabilities to be of interest. Dr. Lawrence M. Lieberman, authority on learning disabilities, will be the speaker. The meeting will be at 8 p.m. on Feb. 11, at the Ballard Vale United Church, Clark Road at Hall Avenue.

At least 20 per cent of the children have a learning disability, taking many forms and usually limiting the performance of these children throughout their whole life. In recent years professionals, educators, and the general public have been zeroing-in on learning disabilities and formally beginning to do something about them. At this time, through action by concerned leaders, we have reached a point where we are on the threshold of massive results.

Dr. Lieberman, who is an assistant professor at Boston College school of education, is a post-doctoral fellow in pediatrics and neurology at the N.E. Medical Center. His talk will be a general discussion of learning disabilities, a description of the problems and how they are diagnosed and treated, a description of what parents can expect from the school in his town.

The public is invited and there will be an opportunity to ask questions from the floor and to talk with other parents and teachers over coffee and refreshments.

Secretary of Labor Peter J. Bernnan has established a Secretary's Advisory Committee on Women, which includes two men.

Students 'Adopt' Child

Susan Arnold, Charlotte Hartwell, Laura Benjamin and Phebe Prescott represent Johnson Hall dormitory, which raises monthly contributions to support foster child in the Philippines.

By Helen M. Eccles

A very special commitment has been made by the girls in Johnson hall, in the West Quad South Cluster of Phillips Academy.

They have joined Foster Parents Plan with the "adoption" of 15 year old Yolanda D. Crema of the Philippines. Their monthly contribution of $16 brings material and financial assistance to both Yolanda and her family and is aimed at strengthening the family unit by helping each member.

The two dormitory units of girls within Johnson Hall take turns raising the monthly contribution. Johnson South began with a bake sale early in the year. There has been a donut breakfast benefit and, more recently, a Friday evening pizza sale which netted enough for a month and a half of assistance for Yolanda and her family.

Yolanda lives in Cavite, Philippines, with her chronically ill father, her mother who gets some work as farm help, and her three brothers and one sister, all younger. Yolanda is a thin, shy girl, but an energetic student in her second year of high school studying English, literature, geometry and Filipino. The parents' combined earnings are $15 a month, so that the Phillips Academy dormitory's $16 a month makes a tremendous difference in their lives.

The Foster Child adoption was the suggestion of PA senior Katherine Barry, a former Abbot student who wanted to preserve the example of last year's Abbot's eleventh grade which adopted a foster child. Under PA's cluster system, classes are mixed in the dormitories, so that many of this year's Johnson Hall students will be in the same dorm next year. Senior Phebe Prescott, under whose name the dormitory took responsibility for financial adoption of their Philippine foster child, says she hopes that this means that the dormitory girls will maintain this adoption of Yolanda beyond this year, so that it can become a relationship with continuity, and a steady source of help for the Crema family.

The $16 a month which the West Quad South girls send provides the family with a monthly cash grant, distribution of goods such as vitamins, blankets, soap and other useful items, medical and dental care, and counseling. Vocational training courses are also available to Foster Children. Monthly correspondence between the Foster Children and their adopters can grow into lasting relationships. The Foster Parents Plan was established in 1937 and now helps 53,000 children and their families.

Knights Clinch The West

By Bill Lafond

For the third consecutive year in a row the Scarlet Knights are Western Division Champions in the Cape Ann League and will enter the post-league East-West title game at Peabody High School Feb. 23. The Knights actually placed a hold to western honors when they catapulted the Masconomet "Chieftains" 77-37 Tuesday afternoon in North Andover. The Knights are 14-1 in the league and are 4 games ahead of Lynnfield, in second place in the West who defeated No. Reading 71-68.

The Knights, who qualified for state tournament play a week ago are just now trying for the top seeded spot in Division II North. Hamilton-Wenham, winners of the East are also trying for that spot along with staying undefeated in the league, meeting the Knights for the C.A.L. title Saturday Feb. 23 at Peabody.

On Tuesday, the Knights just dominated Masconomet from start to finish as they jumped off 10-0, as the Boxford school had trouble getting past mid-court. The red and black held a commanding 19-6 first quarter lead as pivot-man Andy Breen scored 10 of his total 19 in that opening stretch. Penetration defense is the key to the Knights power as they just kept pouring it on making it 38-14 at halftime. Breen, had 15 points at mid-game, more than the whole Chieftain squad had at this point. He also had 10 rebounds to dethrone the opposition power under the bucket to one shot a turn down the court. The Knights led in rebounding 25-11 at halftime.

The second half opened up the same way the first ended as they used running power to ignite the attack. Dick Licare with six led a balanced out-put this quarter as they crushed the "Chieftains" hopes 23-9. The red-wreckers came on in the final period to preserve the on-slaught victory, the fourth straight on hopefully another big string. Andy Breen, led the attack once again with 19 points, 14 rebounds, and 4 steals. Breen shot an amazing 90 per cent from the floor on 9 for 10. Bill St. Cyr followed in his foot steps with 13 points, 8 rebounds, Dick Licare came up with 11 points, 12 assists. Masconomet was led by Mark Wyner with 15 points, 10 rebounds, as he was the only Chieftain in double figures. The Knights shot 30 for 63 from the floor while the Chieftains hit on 16 of 39. The host team hit on a good 17 for 25 from the line and the Chieftains hit on only 5 of 14.

In the J.V. game it was the Scarlet Knight underclassmen 47-29 over the young Chieftains to keep their record at 12-2. A balanced scoring build led the Knights. Mike Heafey (8) and Ed Chaput followed Rich Connors with 9 to lead the attack.

Knights Edge Newburyport

A deliberate stall by the Clippers hurt the Knights running style for awhile but it wasn't enough as the red and black bent toward the ball and broke open to win 63-46 Friday night. Andy Breen, was the biggun with 26 points, 23 rebounds.

The Clippers put on a deliberate freeze as they kept the Knights away from the ball for a 6-5 first quarter lead with 6'2 forward Pete Chetsas getting all six for Newburyport. With Andy Breen out-muscling underneath getting 8 points, and 9 rebounds the Knights meant business every time they got the ball for a 19-14 half time bulge, winning out 14-8 in that second quarter stretch. The key was to keep the Clippers from getting too many shots and not let them underneath where Newburyports 6'3 gun Rick Roaf is. The third quarter saw the Knights running from the start and not letting the Clippers have any time to play deliberately as they opened up outscoring the first half out-put 25-18 in the third frame with Breen adding 8 more and Licare getting 6.

Mike Kealey, averaging 19 points per game started to hit although he had 8, but the Clippers trailed 44-32. The fourth quarter saw the balanced Knights five working to perfection to dethrone the surprising host-Clippers on their Junior High court with a fairly good crowd. They outscored the Newburyport five 19-14 to wrap it up with the Knights clinching a tie for Western honors.

Andy Breen led with 26 while Dick Licare followed with 10 points, 10 assists. Mike Kealey led the Clippers with 20 points. Rich Roaf averaging 18 points per game was held to 8.

The J.V. Knights also won rather easily 57-37 with Mike Heafey and Bob Redman having 16 each. Rich Connor poured in 10.

Hoop Notes

The Knights are 14-1, the West winners of the Cape Ann League and have a record of 15-1 overall. Hamilton-Wenham has a record of 13-0, winners of the East, and they are 14-1 overall.

North Andover should have two C.A.L. All-stars in Andy Breen and Dick Licare with Bill St. Cyr and Sidney Y Peterson also representing the West. Mark Wyner of Masconomet is leading the C.A.L. in scoring with Andy Breen, Sid Peterson, Dick Licare, and Bill St. Cyr all in the top scoring.

Friday night the Knights travel to North Reading for an 8 p.m. tap-off with the Hornets, much improved at 7-6 trailing the Knights in the West. Greg Stewart (6'4 center) and Paul Prady (5'11 guard) lead the Hornets. The Knights will be home Tuesday afternoon against the fighting Indians from Amesbury, and should prove an interesting bet with two of the leagues best, Peter Banks and Charlie Cashman. Amesbury has a C.A.L. record of 9-6. Two weeks from Saturday night at Peabody High School is the C.A.L. East-West Championship game between East winner Hamilton-Wenham (now 13-0) against West holder North Andover (now 14-1) only losing in overtime to Hamilton 52-50. This could be the greatest bout the league has had in years with both teams averaging 6'4 across the front.

Leading the scoring on the Scarlet Knights has been Andy Breen at 238 points in 16 games for a 16.1 average. He holds a 16.7 average in rebounds, probably the best all-around player in the Cape Ann. Dick Licare follows with 160 points in 16 games for an 11.0 average. Bill St. Cyr, 159 points (10.5) and Sidney Peterson, 137 points in 15 games (10.7) St. Cyr and Peterson are averaging 9 and 10 rebounds each respectively.

Talk to you next week.

Tight Money Situation Causes Shift Of Funds

A study of changes in the security and mortgage portfolios of savings banks by John G. Petazzone, Administrative Assistant of the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts, demonstrates how the security investments of Massachusetts savings banks can serve as a reservoir of funds to continue to meet local home mortgage needs during a period of "tight" money.

During the last half of 1973, two simultaneous and seemingly contradictory shifting of funds occurred:

1. Savings Bank investment in mortgages, principally residential, increased by about $400 million to reach a total of $11 billion for the first time.
2. Savings bank deposits declined by approximately the same sum of $400 million.

Only the capacity to sell about $500 million from the other security portfolios provided the funds needed to continue to meet the home mortgage needs in communities throughout the state as savings deposits were attracted to higher yielding investment between July and the end of 1973.

A constant flow of new deposits into savings banks is needed to satisfy mortgage demand. In Massachusetts this is especially true because the savings banks supply two-thirds or more of the new mortgage financing each year. When savings seek higher yields than savings banks are allowed by law to pay, funds for home mortgage loans are not available. This is one of the symptoms of "tight" money, and the last half of 1973 was one of the most intense periods of "tight" money in the past 40 years.

Experience demonstrates that there are times when savings flow into savings banks in larger amounts than can be put to work efficiently in the local mortgage markets. At such times, bonds, various government agency instruments, and other investments may insure better yield for the depositors whose savings are being invested. In this climate, savings banks first meet their local mortgage needs, and then seek to invest other funds as prudently as possible. In recent years the growth of sound investment options has led savings banks to seek expansion on their investment powers under the law so as to insure that depositors savings can be invested, when appropriate, in a variety of advantageous ways. Critics often resist the efforts to secure new legislation to insure sound savings bank progress on the grounds that broader security investment powers run counter to the mortgage financing mission of savings banks.

Earnings Up At Raytheon

Raytheon Company has reported earnings per share for 1973 up 17 per cent over 1972 on a sales increase of 8.6 per cent.

Operating earnings in 1973 were $46,162,000 or $3.03 per share based on 15,217,912 applicable shares. This compares with operating earnings in 1972 of $41,174,000 or $2.59 per share based on 15,898,052 shares then applicable. The 1972 earnings were before an extraordinary charge of $3,275,000 or $.21 per share.

Sales in 1973 were $1,590,461,000 compared with 1972 sales of $1,465,031,000.

Sales, operating earnings, and earnings per share were all record highs.

Commenting on the company's 1973 performance, President Thomas L. Phillips stated that the sales and earnings gains were broadly based.

He further noted that the electronics portion of Raytheon's business displayed the largest sales increase although earnings increases were somewhat inhibited by non-recurring losses taken in medical electronics and Cossor Electronics Ltd., the company's United Kingdom electronics subsidiary.

Mr. Phillips stated that the company's three energy-related subsidiaries posted strong gains in 1973 and have good prospects for a stronger 1974.

Major appliances sustained a 20 per cent growth in sales and earnings for the second consecutive year.

In the fourth quarter of 1973, Raytheon earned $10,942,000 or 73 cents a share on 14,962,140 shares. Comparable year-earlier earnings were $9,038,000 or 58 cents a share on 15,560,074 shares.

Fourth-quarter sales were $437,636,000 in 1973 compared with $374,076,000 in the prior year.

Total company backlog at the end of 1973 was $1,421,112,000 compared with $1,008,634,000 at the end of 1972. The U.S. government - funded portion of the backlog amounted to $653,256,000 at the end of 1973 compared with $542,345,000 at the end of 1972.

Raytheon's provision for federal and foreign income tax in 1973 amounted to $39,436,000, which compared with a 1972 provision of $32,470,000 before the extraordinary item. Fourth-quarter tax provisions were $9,927,000 in 1973 and $7,170,000 in 1972.

To Establish Program For Handicapped

The Northeast Region of the Easter Seal Society of Massachusetts in cooperation with the United Cerebral Palsy Association of the Merrimack Valley, the Merrimack Valley Chapter March of Dimes, and other agencies in the area, are establishing a social recreational program for young adults (17-29 years of age). This Merrimack Valley Young Adult Club will provide social and recreational activities for joint participation by physically handicapped young adults and so-called able-bodied persons of the same ages.

There are high hopes for the club among the various rehabilitative agencies, and especially among the handicapped young adults of the area.

Mark Walker, 21, of Andover, said at the steering committee meeting for the club, "We young handicapped people in the area want to feel like a part of society, able to go to social functions, meet others, talk, relax, and totally enjoy ourselves. Being a member of a social and recreational club is just as much a part of a disabled person's life, as anyone else."

The first meeting of the Club will be held Friday, Feb. 12, at 8 p.m. at the United Cerebral Palsy Center in the Burke Memorial Hospital, Marston St., Lawrence. It will be an evening of guitar and folk music with refreshments. Later in the evening there will be a discussion on the future plans of the Club, which will include evenings of films, gourmet nights, bowling, skating, swimming, visiting museums, sports events, shows and camping trips. Leadership will evolve from the young adults themselves.

Similar clubs have been established elsewhere, such as the Easter Seal Teen Club in St. Louis. This club, formed in 1966, is a community service which provides fun and constructive interest outlets for disabled and non-handicapped alike. The original membership was 14 and has gone up to 110 members at times. The club has served a total of 190 teen-agers and, among other activities, has published a Guide for the Handicapped of St. Louis and sponsored six annual egg hunts for handicapped children.

Anyone interested in participating in the club or assisting in transportation or other ways should contact Irene Valenti, Project Coordinator.

Resigns From Board

Janet Lake has resigned from the Board of Directors of the Andover League of Women Voters according to an announcement by Nancy Mulvey, League president. As an announced candidate Mrs. Lake may no longer serve on the Board, although she does, of course, maintain her membership in the League.

"When one of our members runs for office it is the logical outgrowth of League membership," Mrs. Mulvey said, "since our purpose for over 50 years has been to encourage citizen participation in government. It is important for the public to understand, however, the relationship of any individual's campaign to the non-partisanship of the League as an organization. The League of Women Voters at the national, state and local levels never supports or opposes any candidate but takes stands only on issues. Our voter service material and candidates forums are prepared and conducted with impartiality and fairness to all candidates. We encourage our members, as well as all citizens, to participate fully in politics, both by running for office and by campaigning for candidates of their choice."

Warriors Goal Starved

By Rick Harrison

You just can't win hockey games if you don't score goals, and that simple fact continued to plague the Andover High hockey team last week as it dropped a 3-1 decision to Tewksbury and a 2-0 verdict to Chelmsford.

Coach Dick Valle's Golden Warriors have tightened up defensively, with Chris Cullinan turning in consistently sharp goaltending efforts and the rear-guard corps of Bob Driscoll, Kurt Anderson, Bob Messersmith and sophomores Dale Crossan and Jim Watson handling their job well.

But with the first line doing the bulk of the scoring, AHS has netted only 26 goals in 14 games for a paltry 1.86 per game average.

The double setback left the Warriors with a 3-10-1 league ledger, a 3-10-2 overall record and just four games remaining to be played.

No Luck

Andover gave second-place Tewksbury (10-2-1) all it could handle, outshooting the Redmen 22-15 but running into a "hot" goaltender in senior Mike Hughes.

Hughes was particularly magical with his glove hand, finishing the game with 21 saves.

The first period provided good up-and-down action, but only four shots were taken on net by the two teams combined.

Hughes began his armed robbery at 1:00 of the second period, preserving the scoreless deadlock with a kneeling save or Mark Farnham's breakaway rush down the right wing lane.

Co-Capt. Ken Hubbell, who turned in a pair of hustling, scrapping two-way efforts last week, sent Farnham away with a fine rinkwide pass.

Shortly thereafter Hughes gobbled up five successive AHS shots on a powerplay, robbing Hubbell and John Shaw with glove saves of point-blank blasts.

Tip-ins Hurt

The first of four tip-in goals gave Tewksbury a 1-0 lead at 9:59 of the second period, as Ed Hill re-directed a 60-foot slapshot by defenseman Kevin Walsh over the sprawling Cullinan.

A brief nine seconds later (10:08) first-line center John Hagerty doubled the spread to 2-0, "accidentally" tipping a Rich Deschler wrist shot from the left boards as he skated in front of the net.

Niziak Connects

Andover's Wright Niziak retaliated at 10:59 while the rivals were skating 4-on-4. Steve Hillmann initiated the play with a pass to Kurt Anderson on the left point.

Anderson unloaded a 55-foot slapshot directly along the ice, and Niziak was parked on the doorstep to Hughes' left for a perfect tip-in.

Tewksbury closed the scoring

at 1:00 of the third canto. Hagerly was the culprit again, tapping home a corner pass from Hill to make it 3-1.

Cullinan completed the contest with 12 saves.

First Shutout

Although a goal drought has existed this winter at Andover, the Golden Warriors hadn't been the victim of a shutout until Chelmsford's Rick Beauchamp turned the trick last Saturday.

Beauchamp was hardly tested enough to work up a sweat, however, as the Lions dominated play and outshot Andover by a wide 29-8 margin.

Chris Cullinan steered aside 27 shots in the 36 minutes, and the second goal he surrendered was a fluke.

Chelmsford broke the scoreless tie at 2:33 of the second period, 15 seconds after an Andover powerplay had expired.

Jeff Morris was the marksman, taking a pass in the slot from Mark Volak and depositing a 15-foot wrist shot just inside the post to Cullinan's stick side.

Odd Goal

The Lions picked up an insurance marker from Capt. John Mattison at 3:10 of the third period.

He fired the puck just wide of the AHS net from the blue line, and the disc rebounded off the boards and kicked into the cage off Cullinan's right leg.

Notes

Mark Farnham played both games with a sore shoulder that hampered his maneuverability, and the Warriors inserted Gerry Cushing, Tim Tanner and Craig Eosefow into the games for some valuable experience.

Schedule

Andover returned to action yesterday against Lawrence Central, a team it has beaten 6-0 and 3-2 in previous clashes.

Saturday afternoon at the Billerica Forum the Warriors lock horns with third-place Austin Prep.

Banta

By Rick Harrison

The Andover traveling hockey team wishes it hadn't stayed over the weekend, after dropping fast-skating, hard-hitting to Concord and their respective scores of 3-1 and 2-1.

Both games, the Warriors dropped Andover's record to a still-incomplete Academy Rink.

"Concord and Pittsfield were very big teams physically, each had an excellent forward line," summed up Andover's Neal.

"We didn't get many chances against Concord in the final three minutes of the game. We had many opportunities against Pittsfield, which was the first team to score more than three goals against us. A couple of their goals were rebounds in front of the net, the difference," explained Neal.

"Winger Kevin Sirois had his best game of the season in the Pittsfield game, and the work of Mike Cullinan and Pasquale was exceptional in the Concord game," noted Neal. Far from being discouraged, Neal pointed out that the Warriors had won two straight games.

Hubbell Rebounds

Goalie Jeff Hubbell rebounded both weekend games, having deserved a better record for the only Andover game at the first period.

The game-winning goal was a soft, sliding shot out that skidded past the net and through Hubbell's legs, flopping down to score.

There were several crunching checks throughout the remainder of the contest, and although Andover had five powerplay opportunities, there was no further scoring.

Andover pressed the last three minutes, almost netting several times as Hubbell from the net skater advantage during the 43 seconds.

Sirois Scores

Sunday morning, the Pittsfield crew jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead over Andover.

The first goal at 1:13 was a third rebound attempt by Hubbell, who had kicked the puck into the net two bids. The second goal at 9:11 was flipped past the short side from Kevin Sirois.

Andover at 11:10 of the second period, pocketing his second goal with Lee Applegate's drawing assist.

All three had a point during a goalmouth scramble, and Sirois finally found the net and pushed the disc into the goal.

Redman Ties

Chuck Redman's two goals squared the contest in the middle session.

Joe Pasquale passed the puck to center Bob Daly, who fed Redman at the big wing faked past defenseman, race goalie, pulled him out, and with another fake and a quick pass behind the net, Redman scored.

Pittsfield gained the lead at 3-2 midway through the second period, again connecting on a rebound attempt.

Bantams Drop Pair At Home

By Rick Harrison
The Andover Bantam 'A' traveling hockey team probably wishes it hadn't stayed home last weekend, after dropping a pair of fast-skating, hard-hitting games to Concord and Pittsfield by respective scores of 1-0 and 4-3.

Both games, the results of which dropped Andover's overall record to a still-impressive 8-4-1, were played at the Phillips Academy Rink.

"Concord and Pittsfield were very big teams physically, and each had an excellent defense," summed up Andover Coach Dick Neal.

"We didn't get many scoring chances against Concord until the final three minutes of the game. We had more opportunities against Pittsfield, which was the first team to score more than three goals against us, but a couple of their goals came on rebounds in front and that was the difference," explained Neal.

"Winger Kevin Sirois turned in his best game of the year against Pittsfield, and the defensive work of Mike Cullinan and Joe Pasquale was exceptional in the Concord game," noted the coach. Far from being disappointed, Neal pointed out that "we played well against two strong teams."

Hubbell Relents

Goalie Jeff Hubbell, who worked both weekend tilts and may have deserved a better fate, was beaten for the only goal of the Concord game at 11:25 of the first period.

The game-winner turned out to be a soft, sliding shot from 40 feet out that skidded past two players and through Hubbell's legs as he flopped down to stop it.

There were several bone-crunching checks thrown during the remainder of the defensive contest, and although both teams had five power-play chances there was no further scoring.

Andover pressed the issue in the last three minutes, and almost netted the equalizer several times after yanking Hubbell from the nets for a one skater advantage during the final 43 seconds.

Sirois Scores

Sunday morning the visiting Pittsfield crew jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead over its hosts.

The first goal at 1:29 came on a third rebound attempt, after Hubbell had kicked aside the first two bids. The second marker at 9:11 was flipped past Hubbell to the short side from close range.

Kevin Sirois got one back for Andover at 11:10 of the first stanza, pocketing his second seasonal goal with Lee Apgar and John Fahey drawing assists.

All three had a poke at the puck during a goalmouth scramble, Sirois finally found the handle and pushed the disc home.

Redman Ties It

Chuck Redman's 10th goal in 13 games squared matters at 2:04 of the middle session.

Joe Pasquale passed the puck to center Bob Daly, who in turn fed Redman at the red line. The big wing faked past one Pittsfield defenseman, raced in on the goalie, pulled him from the net with another fake and then stuffed the puck behind the net-minder.

Pittsfield gained the upper hand at 3-2 midway through the period, again connecting on a second rebound attempt.

The eventual deciding goal came on a 15-foot wrist shot that beat Hubbell cleanly at 6:27 of the third frame, boosting the score to 4-2.

First For Moore

Kevin Moore closed the gap to 4-3 a mere 50 seconds later, pumping in an unassisted lamplighter for his first yearly goal.

Kevin made a good play to block an attempted clearing pass by Pittsfield, keeping the puck in the zone and then moving to within 20 feet of the cage before blasting a shot through the goalie's legs.

Hubbell was pulled for the final 50 seconds of the game, but again the strategy proved unsuccessful.

Healthy Edge

Andover still holds a healthy 50-17 scoring edge over the enemy in its 13 games.

Thus the locals are averaging 3.8 goals per game, while the combined goals-allowed mark for Hubbell and Steve April has swelled slightly to 1.31.

Schedule

Andover returned to action yesterday, after TOWNSMAN presstime, when it faced North Reading at the Brooks School outdoor rink in North Andover.

Next on the agenda is a Sunday return match against the Manchester, N.H. Bantams at Phillips Academy. Faceoff time is 4:15 p.m. Andover captured the first encounter in Manchester, 2-1.

St. Robert's Stays On Top

By Rick Harrison

St. Robert's A remained one of three Andover Church Basketball League undefeated teams, and kept its hold on first place in the Senior Division after a 29-9 victory over defending champ St. Augustine A.

West Parish A remained one game behind by clobbering Free, 55-6, and St. Augustine B built up a 13-point halftime lead en route to a 37-28 conquest of West Parish B.

Still Perfect

Six different players combined for points to spark St. Robert's A, now 6-0 overall.

Bill Ashe was top marksman with 7 points, all in the first quarter when the division leaders grabbed an 11-4 advantage.

Guard T.J. Caveney of Tewksbury, John Kleschinsky and Bart Weitz contributed 6 points apiece, while solo buckets were delivered by Chris Fortune and Joey Koravos.

St. Robert's increased that 11-4 first period spread to 17-5 at the half and 21-9 after three quarters.

Bob Kramer hooped 8 points for the undermanned St. Augustine quintet, while Tom Curtin swished a second period free throw.

Sullivan Sinks 16

Eric Sullivan poured in 16 points, including 13 in the first half, powering West A to its romp over winless Free Church.

Eric netted 7 markers in the opening stanza as West forged an 11-0 lead, and he added 6 more in the second frame when the score jumped to 29-0.

Steve Serley picked up the slack in the second half with 8 of his 10 points.

Bob Zwicker and Dave Heidt flipped in 9 points apiece during the game, while Mark Ketzler swished 6, Chris Elliott 4 and Carl Wetterberg a free throw for West.

Dennis Monroe scooped through 4 points and Lamont Rodgers notched 2 for Free, which also received good efforts from John Carver, Mark Budd and Gary Lindstrom.

Reming Hot

Shawn Reming had another big night with 17 well-spaced points, propelling St. Augustine B (3-2) to its triumph over West B (1-5).

J. Silva also cracked double figures with 12 points for the victors, while Dave Hajj canned 6 points and Tom Busta collected a fourth period basket.

Jeff Smith pumped in 13 points for the losers. Tim Sweeney chucked 6 points through the strings, Mark Paro notched 4 markers, Scott Bitler 3 points and Ed Goodman 2.

St. Augustine B raced to a 6-2 first stanza lead, made it 19-6 at the half and then played West B almost even for the remainder of the contest.

Hat Trick Club Meets

The "Hat Trick Club" of Andover, comprised of parents and friends of the Andover High varsity hockey team players, met recently in the basement conference room of the Bay State Bank.

President Bob Flannery presided over the open meeting, at which plans for the second annual hockey banquet were discussed.

Appointed to the banquet committee were Mesdames Joseph Watson, Harry Collins, Augustine Fabiani, Richard Hubbell, John Tanner and Douglas Hillmann.

Featured speaker at the session was AHS head Coach Dick Valle, whose topic was the overall hockey program at the high school level and suggested improvements to upgrade the sport at all levels in the town.

Y Hoop League Nears End

This Saturday, Feb. 9, is the final day for regular season play in the Basketball Leagues of the Andover-North Andover YMCA. Barring complications on the last day of play, the programs will all wind up on the following Saturday, Feb. 16, when all-star games, any needed playoffs and presentation of awards will be the features. This Saturday at the YMCA gym the 8 year olds will have final coaching sessions 1-2 p.m. followed by Pee Wee Division games between the Cougars and the Bears at 2 p.m. and the Elephants vs. Tigers 2:45 p.m. Edward Kelley will supervise both games.

At the East Junior High School gym this Saturday, with George Bragdon supervising, the Junior League games are as follows: 1 p.m. North Carolina vs. Holy Cross and Notre Dame vs. U.S.C.; 1:45 p.m. Ohio State vs. U.C.L.A. At 2:30 p.m. Intermediate games start under Supervisor Charles Conlon with the Hawks playing the Celtics followed by the Bucks vs. the Knicks at 3:15 p.m.

Last Saturday the Cougars defeated the Elephants 16-12 to decide first place in the Pee Wee Division. Ted Kelley led the undefeated Cougars with 10 points. In the second game the Bears walloped the Tigers 18-7.

Notre Dame continued undefeated in second half play for the Junior Division by beating Ohio State 53-25. Frank Pelletier dropped 23 points for Notre Dame while Kevin Bartolotta and Billy Lucey teamed up for 17 points for Ohio. U.S.C. defeated North Carolina 34-21 to remain tied with Notre Dame in the second half standings. Jim Grover scored 26 for the winning club. In the third game U.C.L.A. toppled a weak Holy Cross entry. This Saturday the Notre Dame vs. U.S.C. game will decide the second half title, with the winner to play first half titlist North Carolina on the following Saturday, Feb. 16, for the League Title.

In Intermediate League competition the Bucks defeated the Hawks 72-47. Danny Hayes and Mike Witt scored 60 points in the winners cause and for the loser's Carl Wetterberg and Robert Kramer teamed up for 39 points. In the final game of the long schedule the Celtics upset the League leading Knicks 41-40, to continue to hold a mathematical chance to win the League crown. However, only the Bucks can give the Celtics a possible tie with the Knicks by defeating the Knicks this Saturday. Mitch Rousseau scored 26 points for the Celtics and for the Knicks Scott Collins and Joe Terrior scored 30 between them.

Frederick Enlists In Air Force

Donald J. Frederick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frederick of 191 Andover St., Andover, enlisted in the United States Air Force recently according to Sergeant Cadieux, the United States Air Force Representative in the Greater Lawrence area.

Shortly after the enlistment ceremony, Mr. Frederick departed for Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, where he will attend the Airman's School of Military Science.

Mr. Frederick graduated from Andover High School in June 1973.

Telephone Solar Energy

New England Telephone effort to utilize every means to conserve energy, is conducting an experiment with solar in North Chelmsford - in the Bell System.

A North Chelmsford building addition was chosen as a case to investigate the usage of solar energy either partially or completely of the company's building.

This building addition is presently under construction is of a size and design repeated many times through the company's operating. Also, it is advantageous to give such a the best possible access to sun.

If the system is successful company hopes to recover 60 per cent of the operating cost of heating buildings by using solar. And, if this success continues same system could be adapted to operate air conditioning during the summer months.

Solar heat is a quiet, non-polluting, easily maintained, cheap to operate source of energy.

The operation of a heating system, in simple form, uses a black collector, usually located on a building roof. Water runs through this collector unit and is heated by the heat energy from the sun.

This hot water is then pumped into an insulated holding tank, the room thermostat controls the room temperature.

Survey Of Cardinals Scheduled

Thousands of brilliant red cardinals and grey Tufted Titmice apparently have descended on Massachusetts is a good place to call home. The Massachusetts Audubon Society aims to measure the numbers of new feathered residents with the help of citizens throughout the Commonwealth. A New England wide census is scheduled for the weekend of Feb. 9-10. Everyone interested is urged to take part. Participation is simple - and record the numbers of two birds seen during the weekend on a card provided by the Society and send it to Audubon in Lincoln.

Cardinals and Tufted Titmice are particularly interesting because they are newcomers to the area, and offer a good opportunity to study their population growth and distribution.

In the fall of 1957, Cardinals and Tufted Titmice "expansion" into central New England was the following year both species were common.

Telephone Co. To Use Solar Energy In Test

New England Telephone, in an effort to utilize every measure to conserve energy, is conducting an experiment with solar energy in North Chelmsford - the first in the Bell System.

A North Chelmsford building addition was chosen as a test case to investigate the possible usage of solar energy to heat, either partially or completely, many of the company's buildings.

This building addition is presently under construction and is of a size and design that is repeated many times throughout the company's operating area. Also, it is advantageously situated to give such a system the best possible access to the sun.

If the system is successful, the company hopes to recover about 60 per cent of the operating cost of heating buildings by its use. And, if this success continued the same system could be adapted to operate air conditioning equipment during the summer months.

Solar heat is a quiet, non-polluting, easily maintained and cheap to operate source of energy.

The operation of a solar heating system, in simplified form, uses a black collector plate usually located on a building roof. Water runs through tubes in this collector unit and is heated by the heat energy from the sun.

This hot water is then pumped into an insulated holding tank. As the room thermostat calls for heat, the heated water is circulated through a coil in the furnace ductwork. Air is passed over the coil, thus heating the space.

Solar heat is just being investigated now as a practical source of heat because, in the past, the availability and cheapness of fossil fuels made solar heat seem impractical. The basic principal involved, however, has been known since early man first used glass to focus the sun's rays to start a fire.

In 212 B.C., Archimedes set fire to Marcellus' invading ships by using mirrors to concentrate the sun's rays. And today, some 20-odd houses are already being heated wholly or partially by the sun in locations from Albuquerque, New Mexico, to Newark, Delaware, to District Heights, Maryland.

A government energy panel, in assessing solar energy as a national energy resource, drew these conclusions:

"There are no technical barriers to wide application of solar energy to meet U.S. needs. . . If solar development programs are successful building heating could reach public use within five years, building cooling in six to 10 years."

Although systems like these can realize large fuel savings in the future, New England Telephone recognizes its responsibility to conserve energy now.

Survey Of Cardinals Scheduled

Thousands of brilliant red Cardinals and grey Tufted Titmice apparently have decided Massachusetts is a good place to call home. The Massachusetts Audubon Society aims to measure the numbers of these new feathered residents with the help of citizens throughout the Commonwealth. A New England wide census is scheduled for the weekend of Feb. 9-10. Everyone interested is urged to take part. Participation is simple - count and record the numbers of the two birds seen during that weekend on a card provided by the Society and send it to Mass. Audubon in Lincoln.

Cardinals and Tufted Titmice are particularly interesting because they are newcomers to the area, and offer a good opportunity to study their population growth and distribution.

In the fall of 1957, Cardinals and Tufted Titmice "exploded" into central New England, and the following year both species were reported nesting in Massachusetts. Up until this time they were birds seldom seen here.

There are several theories about Massachusetts' popularity with the two species. The growing number of people who feed birds and a warming trend in the New England climate are possible factors that may have caused the surge Northward.

Male cardinals are bright red and females are a warm orange-brown with a red bill. Titmice are essentially all grey. Both birds have crested heads.

If you would like to be a Titmouse and Cardinal counter on Feb. 9-10, write Mass. Audubon, Lincoln, 01773, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope and a census card and instructions will be mailed to you.

20th Reunion

The next meeting of the Reunion Committee, class of 1954 Punchard High School, will be held on Friday, Feb. 8, at the home of Mrs. John Avery, 36 Morton St., Andover.

All members of the class of 1954 are welcome at the 7:30 meeting.

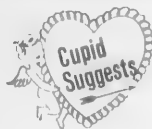

The company has instructed all drivers of company vehicles to drive no faster than 50 miles per hour, and has urged its employees to form carpools and to use public transportation or company shuttles where available.

To conserve heat and electricity, the company has set maximum temperatures of 68 degrees in all employee work locations, 55 degrees in all unattended work locations, 50 degrees in all garage areas, and 40 degrees in seldom-used areas like unattended storerooms.

To Present French Play

Phillips Academy French students will present a student-directed, modern dress version of "Le Misanthrope," by the 17th century master-dramatist Moliere, on Feb. 19, 20 and 21. Included in the cast are Andover residents Terri Samel and Karen Krivobok.

Area French students and the general public are cordially invited to the performances, in French, at the Phillips Academy Drama Lab at 6:45 p.m. each evening. The Drama Lab is situated below the main stage of George Washington Hall, its door opening onto the parking lot off Chapel Avenue, just past the Andover Inn.

Senior John Stephen is directing "Le Misanthrope," with rehearsals conducted entirely in French. Mrs. Katherine Kirkland, French instructor at the Academy, has turned her livingroom over to the cast, rearranging it into the setting of the play for the duration of rehearsals.

"Le Misanthrope" is one of Moliere's most famous plays. It concerns the difficulties of Alceste in coping with the frivolities of contemporary society, where appearances are revered more than substance. Yet Alceste carries his attacks on contemporary modes to excess, until they encompass all human nature. Alceste's misanthropic personality is put to extreme tests, since his fatal weakness is a love for the frivolous, coquettish Celimene, exposing him to ridicule.

The play was written in 1666 but its themes, like that of any classic are part and parcel of any age.

Youth Painting

A painting class for boys and girls in grades 3-6 is being offered by the Andover-North Andover YMCA. It will be conducted on Mondays 3:30-5 p.m. for five weeks beginning Feb. 11 at the Andover YMCA building, 10 Brook St. Instructors Nicki Silverman and Kim McCabe will work with beginners and more advanced students in either acrylics or water colors. Enrollment is limited and registrations are being accepted only at the Andover YMCA office.

A Helping Hand From Andover

Peace Corps volunteer Edmund J. Sullivan, III, of Andover, and men from the village of N'Gueye N'Gueye, Senegal, relax together before a meal. Sullivan, a graduate of Boston College, is serving in Senegal as a rural community development worker. He is regional coordinator of Peace Corps rural community development volunteers in Senegal's drought-stricken Fleuve region.

The facilities, which consist of cement cylinders sunk into the ground with a cement and iron-reinforced floor on top and a tight-fitting wooden lid to guard against flies. He and another volunteer also built a demonstration septic tank in St. Louis as part of the government's drive to eradicate the unsanitary conditions which have led to cholera epidemics and deaths in the past.

Sullivan also helped the villagers of N'Gueye N'Gueye establish a child nutrition center at which youngsters can receive high-protein food supplements through Catholic Relief Services.

He also is coordinating and organizing well projects and vegetable garden projects in the Fleuve region, using U.S. AID funds provided for that purpose. He and fellow volunteers are experimenting with drip pipe irrigation systems as a means of conserving scarce water and growing vegetables for village consumption. Last summer, the Peace Corps tapped Sullivan and another volunteer to coordinate technical training for new community development volunteers.

In his work, Sullivan speaks both French, the official language of Senegal, and Wolof, the traditional language of the Wolof people who comprise the country's largest ethnic group. He lives in N'Gueye N'Gueye with a large Wolof family in a typical cement block house.

"I am never lonely in the village," he said. "I have become very fond of, and attached to, my Wolof family and, though at times they are very possessive, they surely are the source of my greatest contentment here - which remains a personal experience."

Sullivan has learned how to eat with his hands from a communal bowl, bathe out of a bucket and sleep on a mat. He is far away from the energy crisis - he has no running water or electricity, and uses horses and donkeys as his means of transport within the village.

"I have discovered the richness of an entirely different mode of existence," he said.

"The communal philosophy of sharing is necessary when few people are wealthy and many are not. Village dances and celebrations are all expressions of communal solidarity that I have learned to appreciate while absorbing village folklore and the language."

"Though there is a great emphasis on the individual's communal responsibilities, I have found no other people so tolerant of individual cultural differences," he added. "There is an inherent easy-goingness and lack of anxiety in the Senegalese villagers that Americans - unfortunately - know nothing about."

Sullivan is the son of Selectman and Mrs. Edmund J. Sullivan, Jr. of 4 Rolling Rodge Road, Andover.

A native of Cambridge, Sullivan graduated in 1968 from Austin Preparatory School in Reading. He majored in economics at Boston College in Chestnut Hill, and spent his junior year overseas studying at University College in Dublin, Ireland. He received his bachelor's degree from Boston College in 1972 shortly before he entered the Peace Corps.

Sullivan is one of about 90 Peace Corps volunteers serving in Senegal in a variety of rural community development, education, nutrition and health programs. Around the world, about 7,400 Americans are serving as Peace Corps volunteers in 68 developing nations.

The Peace Corps is part of ACTION, the voluntary service agency established by President Nixon on July 1, 1971 to administer federal volunteer programs at home and overseas. Mike Balzano is the director of ACTION.

ACTION'S domestic programs are Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA), Foster Grandparent Program, Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE), Active Corps of Executives (ACE), Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), ACTION Cooperative Volunteers and University Year for ACTION.

Only Solution

Imposition of the so-called "Oregon Plan" as a sort of gas rationing system in Massachusetts seems to be the most logical move since everyone decided to run their vehicles on a full tank of gasoline.

The plan as announced by Governor Sargent this week and to be implemented next week, will provide for a little more equitable distribution of gasoline for the motoring public.

It will likewise eliminate, hopefully, the long lines awaiting at gasoline stations every morning and particularly on Saturdays.

Since the onset of the energy crisis and accompanying shortage of gasoline, it has been chaos attempting to keep the family vehicle on the road.

Panic buying has occurred in many instances.

Dangerous conditions have resulted in communities, where long lines of waiting cars block roadways and with new snow piles, make routine, normal travel difficult.

We feel safe in assuming that in many cases, some motorists are now driving with more fuel in their tank than ever, no doubt in fear of the day when the pumps run dry.

Talent

A program of particular note was offered last Thursday night as a benefit for providing noon bus service for the town's senior citizens.

A sandwich buffet provided through the efforts of the food services department of the public schools was followed by entertainment offered by local young people.

The program itself was more or less directed by Anthony Mangifesti, whose enthusiasm is sufficient to make any venture a success.

But, we would single out the young people for their particular effort, in the venture.

With only a few weeks to prepare, this accomplished group of musical entertainers, put together a show which exemplified some of the fine talent available in Andover.

True, the older folks in the audience may have been a bit shocked at the modern sound, but that's what prevails.

Then, when the Andover schools dance band went into concert, some of the "oldies but goodies," had a bit different ring, but most pleasant to the ear.

Yet, these same people are not doing any more travelling then before.

Some are topping off their tanks, with the quantity being pumped less than a dollars worth in many instances.

The limitations being placed on consumers by some station owners is also an imposition, although somewhat understandable from the owner's view point. Obtaining a dollars worth of gas after waiting in line for long periods of time seems to gain nothing.

There should be a minimum amount of gasoline obtained for each visit, such as the $3 minimum as presented in the plan outlined by Gov. Sargent.

The Sargent plan is a voluntary one, but is the most logical move under the present circumstances.

Hopeful it will be acceptable to the general public. The shortage of fuel varies from area to area within the state, according to reports, but the concern at the moment is in this immediate area.

In this age when wheels are important to everyone's livelihood, it seems that such a voluntary system as proposed by Gov. Sargent should be looked upon as mandatory by everyone.

Also, a group of girls performed some dance numbers, much to the delight of all. "The Liberty Bell Dancers," presented their routines which they choreographed themselves and also made the costumes.

We think the overall presentation was an excellent example of the great talent Andover has available in many of its young people.

It was particularly rewarding on such an occasion that it should be displayed at its best for the town's senior citizens, and the many other friends who attended this most worthwhile affair.

Off The Top Of The Desk

Red Cross has always been known to meet challenges but this week the Andover Chapter has met what doubtless is one of the most unusual ever presented to any Red Cross Chapter. "Arsenic and Old Lace" is being produced by students at West

Junior High. They needed an inanimate body and appealed to the Red Cross.

Resusci-Anne, the plastic inflatable dummy used to teach mouth to mouth resuscitation is now the star or dead body in the West Junior High play being presented this Friday and Saturday.

A recent activity in North Andover shows the value of advertising.

The North Andover board of selectmen was seeking applicants for a part time custodian for the town office building. The position was advertised in the TOWNSMAN, as well as other newspapers, with a resultant response of 101 applicants.

Included were over 20 applicants from North Andover alone, plus some cleaning service agencies.

The board finally decided Monday night on the appointment of a local man for the service which pays between $60 and $65 weekly.

Engineering work on Elm street gives evidence that the section of Andover roadway from Wilson's Corner, North Andover to Washington Avenue, Andover, may some day soon get some permanent repairs.

Surveys are currently being done by state crews to map out the permanent roadway. It is to be repaired at state expense before being turned over to the town of Andover for maintenance.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - February, 1899

At the mid-winter meeting of the Abbot Academy Alumnae, held at the Vendome hotel, Boston, last weekend, it was decided to construct a new building on the campus in memory of Miss Philena McKeen.

The selectmen have prepared the papers for the laying out of Barnard's Court next to the Town House, in order that it be presented for acceptance as a public way.

McCarthy Bros., Inc., have the contract to supply the firemen with new service overcoats which are expected to arrive any day.

The schools were out two days in a row this week. Tuesday was visiting day, during which the teachers attended gymnastics classes in Boston. Wednesday the severe storm caused a cancellation of classes.

At a hearing in Boston this week, the legislative study group passed favorably on a bill which would combine the sewer and water departments into a public works department. It will be on the ballot in March.

50 Years Ago - February, 1924

The announcement is made of the formation of the Shawsheen Co-Operative bank to serve residents of the village, Andover and its environs.

The J.S. Pitman Co., of Park street, was awarded the contract for remodelling the rooms for the Fraternal Association. The plans were drawn by Perley Gilbert Associates of Lowell.

Lt. Col. Marlborough Churchill, son of Peter John Wesley Churchill of Morton St., has retired from the Army. His final assignment was with the Division of Central Intelligence, Washington, D.C.

Elmer Grover of the entering class of Phillips Academy was presented the Butler-Thwing Prize of $15 for scoring highest in the entrance examinations.

High winds damaged the covering of the Musgrove Building over the weekend and carpenters have been busily engaged in making repairs.

25 Years Ago - February, 1949

The Board of Public Works has scheduled four meetings this week. In addition to their regular meetings, the board will meet with the Andover Taxpayers Association, those having street acceptance petitions and another session to listen to those seeking sewer cost abatements.

The school committee voted this week to distribute leaflets to town meeting to explain their budget.

The Men Teachers Association of Andover, a newly formed group, has asked the school committee to consider dependency allowances.

Warren A. Maddox was appointed a reserve patrolman by the selectmen Monday night.

The selectmen will include $6,750 in the police department budget this year to allow voters to decide whether the department should go on a five day week.

10 Years Ago - February, 1964

Data compiled by Merrimack College students relative to downtown parking survey, is now being studied by the Andover Chamber of Commerce and the Planning Board.

Free cash has been certified at $556,660.

Dr. Patrick J. Doyle, formerly of Andover, has been appointed director of vocational rehabilitation in the U.S. Department of Health Education and Welfare.

The State Department of Public Works informs local officials the name "Andover" will be placed on Route 93 signs in town. It is not now on the signs at exit ramps.

Remember?

In days of yore, this was the scene at the Andover depot in the early morning hours when the steam engines carried commuters to Boston, as well as to Lawrence on the many scheduled daily runs of the Boston and Maine. With today's energy crisis and the fight for gasoline a daily happening, a return to the good old days might be fondly looked upon.

Atty. Richard M. Sullivan

To Head GLEAM Program

Atty. Richard M. Sullivan of Andover, has been named president of the Greater Lawrence Ecumenical Area Ministry (GLEAM), succeeding Rev. David Eaton of Methuen.

Atty. Sullivan is the first Roman Catholic to head the group, and many GLEAM members look upon his leadership as making the organization more ecumenical in character.

The Andover attorney who has devoted much of his practice to the Spanish community, has been a board member of GLEAM since it was organized six years ago. He is hopeful, however, of expanding the scope of GLEAM to include other minority groups in the coming year.

A native of Lawrence, he is a graduate of Villanova University and Northeastern University Law School.

He is a member of the bar in both Massachusetts and Maine and served as a U.S. Commissioner in Maine. He also served as a member of the town council in North Reading for seven years.

A former director of the ABC program in Andover, he holds membership in the American Legion and Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus.

Walsh Basket Wins Thriller

By Rick Harrison

John Walsh's only basket of the game with 20 seconds left to play boosted St. Augustine B to an exciting 21-20 victory over St. Robert's B to highlight Intermediate Division play in the Andover Church Basketball League last Monday night.

John's clutch bucket enabled the winners to remain undefeated at 6-0, one-half game ahead of West Parish A which whipped Free 17-6 to boost its ledger to 6-1.

St. Robert's B dropped into a third-place tie with St. Robert's A at 5-2, while West Parish B and St. Robert's C stand 4-2.

Seesaw Struggle

The first-place struggle between St. Augustine B and St. Robert's B was tight all the way. The lead changed hands five times, and the widest spread of the game was St. Robert's 17-14 edge in the opening minute of the fourth quarter.

Richie Marciano hit a lay-up and Mike Chase a scoop shot for St. Robert's in the first period, but baskets by Bill Hart and Paul Sirois of St. Augustine B offset that damage to make it 4-4.

Sirois turned red-hot in the second stanza with 8 points, giving St. Augustine a narrow 12-10 half-time advantage.

Marciano pumped through two baskets and Chase one in the third quarter, however, countered only by a Tom Walsh two-pointer to lift St. Robert's ahead 16-14.

St. Robert's held a slim lead throughout the major portion of the last session, until John Walsh's bucket sealed it.

The ball changed hands several times in the final 20 seconds, but neither team was able to score again.

Sirois paced all scorers with 10 points. Tom Walsh tossed in 4 markers, John Walsh 3 and solo buckets came from Charlie Heseltine and Bill Hart.

Marciano and Chase stuffed 6 points apiece for St. Robert's. John Amboian and Jeff Nicastro collected 3 each and Dan Saunders delivered a third period basket.

The loss was the second straight by one point for the tough-luck St. Robert's quintet, a 20-19 sudden-death victim of West A last week.

Free Hangs Tough

Free Church had upset on its mind, and gave West Parish A all it could handle for one half before the three-time defending champs pulled away to their 31st win in the last 32 league starts.

The score was tied 4-4 after one quarter. West led 8-4 at the half and 12-6 at the third period break.

Jeff Rosen did the bulk of the damage for West A, pouring in 13 points. Pete Newton and Bill Hall added second-half baskets, while Mike McDonald, Glen Johnson, Phil Harnden and Paul Newton also played well.

Steve Smith netted 4 points and Doug Kirkland a deuce for Free. Other standouts included Alan Patterson, Mike King and Scott Lindstrom.

Fourth Straight

St. Robert's A continued its climb up the ladder, nipping St. Augustine C by a 16-12 count for its fourth consecutive win.

The winners jumped off to an 8-2 lead after one stanza and then held on to thwart a late St. Augustine charge.

Paul Weitz and Ben Bram sparked St. Robert's A with 4 points each. Big Dan Bradley pocketed 3 markers, while solo baskets were notched by Scott and Greg Praetz.

Bob Oelwang grabbed game-high point honors for St. Augustine C, firing through 8. Jay DiIorio and Mark Bedell contributed 2 points apiece.

Other standouts in a losing cause were Joe Torrisi, Bill Caselden and Brian Busta.

Third Quarter Rally

Trailing 10-8 at the half, St. Augustine D rallied for a 7-2 third period spurt and then held on to edge West Parish B, 20-18.

Steve Morin was the big man for the winners with 10 points, including eight in the second half. Will Dufresne flipped in 8 markers and Steve Moriarty swished a pair of important free throws.

Both teams had nine field goals, but Moriarty's brace of foul shots were the eventual victory margin.

Bruce Belbin dunked 8 points for West B, including six in the opening quarter when West grabbed a 6-2 lead. Chris Doherty added 6 points and Steve Doherty 4 markers for West B, whose two losses have come by a total of three points.

Jim Dwyer, Kane Grecoe and John Dwyer also starred for St. Augustine D, while West stalwarts were Gary Johnson, Todd McLeod, Jody Yameen, Mark Newton and Jay McLeod.

Second Half Explosion

St. Robert's C struggled to a 7-6 halftime lead, but after intermission the club couldn't miss and went on to an easy 32-8 romp over St. Augustine A.

John McNamara dumped in 14 points and Carmen Frederico 12 for St. Robert's, which erupted for 18 last period markers.

Todd Zimmerman completed the offense with 6 points, and defensive leaders included Ira Gold, Jimmy Lebowitz and Craig Zimmerman.

Tom Haskard paced St. Augustine A with 4 points, followed by Charlie Wiseman and Rich Gusmini who canned 2 each.

Dave Gusmini also played well.

Kilgo Nets 17

Big Bob Kilgo scored in every quarter, finishing with 17 points as South B stormed to a 28-16 triumph over Baptist.

Tim Plass dropped through 7 points and Rich Caughey netted 4 markers, helping the victors to a 20-4 halftime lead.

John Sagaser and John Russell turned in excellent two-way performances for South, which captured its second straight victory.

Steve Rathbun guided the Baptist charge with 8 points. Bobby Fitzgerald banked in 4 points, and last quarter baskets were scored by Tom Stedman and Jim Rathbun.

Poultry Remains Good Item

Beef prices are going up again, reports the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture (MDA), though there are still some bargains if you look carefully.

But the best place to favor your budget this week appears to be the poultry counter, where both chicken and turkey prices have remained at fairly low levels. Large turkeys, in particular, represent good value per pound. But many homemakers don't care to prepare a whole turkey for regular meals... so what to do?

Have the butcher split the fresh turkey, suggests the MDA, so you can cook half and freeze the rest. Yes, you can stuff half a turkey. Put the stuffing in the broiling pan, and put the carcass over it like a lid.

You can even dismember a half turkey and cook the parts as you need them, like chicken parts.

Whole chickens and chicken parts are featured more or less alternately. If chicken parts were on sale last week, for instance, you'll probably find that whole broilers or fryers are featured this week, and so on.

With prices at current levels, this would be a good time to stock up on chickens, and to begin experimenting with some of the myriad ways to prepare chicken dishes... not only to feed your family well... but to enter a new cooking contest that offers $25,000 in cash prizes.

It's the 1974 Chicken Cooking Contest sponsored by the National Broiler Council, and it carries a $10,000 first prize. There will be state eliminations, with the national cookoff in June. Entry blanks are being distributed now, and your poultry counter may have one for you. You may, if you wish, request one by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Division of Markets, Mass. Dept. of Agriculture, 100 Cambridge St., Boston, Ma 02202. More information on this contest will be forthcoming soon.

The native apple market is still strong this week, says the MDA, with what seems to be an abundance of Red and Golden Delicious, with some special sales expected this week. Other local produce in good supply includes parsnips, turnips, Butter-nut and Blue Hubbard squash.

Saltonstall Asks Work Expansion

Senator William L. Saltonstall (R-Manchester) and Senator Edward L. Burke (D-Framingham) today introduced a resolution urging the Secretary of Defense to expand the work of the U.S. Army Natick Laboratories.

Introducing the resolution, Saltonstall told of his personal interest in the laboratories which were begun in Lawrence during World War II. "As a student I visited the labs and saw them testing clothing in simulated jungle and arctic climates in two adjacent rooms. The laboratories were later expanded and moved to Natick where a food and container institute was added. They now are the Army's human environmental laboratory testing and developing food, clothing and shelter and the delivery of all three."

Saltonstall continued, "If there ever was an army lab with peaceful spin-off, this is it. I have seen it in its infancy and have watched it grow and mature. I want to see it continue as an important Massachusetts contribution to peacetime research."

In today's army, everyone receives equal pay for equal work. All enlistees begin at the same monthly rate - $326.10 - with the same opportunities for regular promotions and raises.

1974 Audi 100 LS At Park-Hegarty Porsche Audi

The exciting new Audi 100 LS is now on display at Park-Hegarty Porsche Audi, Inc., 222 Lowell Street in Lawrence. This Audi LS for 1974 combines small car economy with a big car ride. Available in a two-door or four-door version, the 1974 100 LS has seating room for five adults plus a 20-cubic-foot trunk.

The Audi 100 LS for 1974 offers a rational alternative to low mileage luxury cars. Delivering over 20 miles per gallon, the 100 LS is available with such options as automatic transmission, steel belted radial tires, power steering and factory installed air conditioning. Individual reclining front bucket seats are standard. Stronger bumpers and redesigned front grill highlight the visual changes in the Audi 100 LS for 1974. A luxury sedan, powered by a small 114-cubic-inch engine, the Audi has front-wheel drive and delivers over 20 miles per gallon on regular fuel!

The Audi is a lot of car for a lot of different people. It is a sedan that driving enthusiasts can take pleasure in driving. It is a car for daily runs to school, etc. without big gasoline bills. It is a car for travelling, for commuting, for work and for pleasure. And the Audi has something very important in common with that old standby Volkswagen - SERVICE.

Be sure to see the handsome new Audi 100 LS, as well as the full line of Audi and Porsche automobiles. Enjoy a test drive any time at Park-Hegarty Porsche Audi, Inc. 222 Lowell Street in Lawrence. For further information, call Harry Dooley, Sales Manager, or any of the salesmen at 686-9743. Showrooms open Monday through Friday 8:30 - 9, Saturdays 8:30 - 4.

AAUW Group Meets Thursday

All members are urged to come and share their ideas and feelings regarding the branch's goals and growth for the future.

A Festival Of Nonsense

By Wayne Gervais

One might preach forever and a day on the philosophy expounded by the revolutionary likes of Clarence Darrow and Henry David Thoreau, and how the idiosyncrasies of these people provide great fodder for dramatic recreations - but, let's face it, such verbal rambling reeks of little more than name-dropping and is, in essence, the first, last and most obvious symptom of hypocrisy, which is exactly what the aforementioned rebels rebelled against.

A more appropriate approach in examining these souls would be to actually gather the fodder and mold these people into shape on stage - to illustrate their ideas and ideals through their actions and the reactions of the people closest to them.

Clarence Darrow and Henry David Thoreau are the pivotal characters in two dramatic pieces from the pen of Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee, Inherit The Wind and The Night Thoreau Spent In Jail respectively. Now, we announce the latest Lawrence and Lee excursion into the world of the individualist.

On February 8, 9, 10, 15, 16 and 17, The Garrett Players of Lawrence will present Jabberwock, or, "Improbabilities lived and imagined by James Thurber in the fictional city of Columbus, Ohio."

Jabberwock is, and will be for years to come, a glorious festival of the nonsense that erupts when the Supreme Jabberwock, logic, tries to infiltrate the perpetually content illogical; in this case, Ms. Mary Agnes Thurber and her son Jamie who, between them, make a Burns and Allen dialogue sound like a summing-up television epilogue by John-Boy Walton.

Jabberwock (a word, or, if you will, a creature conveniently filched from a nonsense poem by Lewis Carroll) is brand new - barely unwrapped, and is The Garrett's second collaboration with the American Playwright's Theatre, an Ohio-based organization dead-set on encouraging virgin dramatic material to take the initial public plunge way off Broadway - in places like Columbus, Ohio; Dallas, Texas; San Francisco, California and Lawrence, Massachusetts.

Two seasons ago, the Garrett-ATC venture was The Night Thoreau Spent In Jail which has, since that time, become an international success. Lawrence and Lee have higher hopes for Jabberwock - perhaps the moon.

A family comedy - yes. A slapstick ritual - occasionally. A poignant portrait of life lived to the hilt - always. James Thurber would never have become America's leading absurdist if his early life hadn't been an exercise in the ridiculous. Simply stated, this New England Premier of Jabberwock will be the funniest, most pleasingly chaotic and the most downright stomach-soothing and mind-boggling evening of entertainment in the Garrett Players' recent history.

The production, includes Sally Applegate as Mary Agnes Thurber; Paul McEvoy as young Jamie Thurber; Frank Pollard as an aging adolescent Grandpa Fisher; Joanne Collins as Jamie's fizzling flame; John Fionte as the loquacious cure-all salesman, Doc Marlowe; Anne Armitage as an entire pride of maids and Steve Kimball as, among others, Jamie's stultified science teacher, Professor Welch.

Jabberwock could easily be subtitled, You Can't Take It With You - But I'll Be Damned If I'm Not Gonna Try. And, just think, you'll be the first folks west of the Hudson to see it!

Raytheon Receives Contract

Raytheon Company has received a preliminary contract to begin production of the Improved Hawk air defense system for six North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) nations. It is expected that a definitive contract will be negotiated within 90 days.

It is anticipated that the size of this program will be about $660 million, approximately 60 per cent of which will be performed by Raytheon and 40 per cent by European firms. Raytheon will serve as the system contractor.

NATO nations participating in the program are Denmark, Federal Republic of West Germany, France, Greece, Italy and The Netherlands.

This program, according to the NATO Hawk Organization, will enable these participating countries to bring their Hawk weapons systems up to the same level as that of the U.S. forces in Europe, in accordance with the recommendation of the Supreme allied Commander in Europe and to contribute more efficiently to the air defense of Europe.

In the United States, the work will be done at Raytheon Company's Missile Systems Division, which is headquartered in Bedford, and operates plants and laboratories in Andover, Lowell and Burlington; Bristol, Tenn.; and Oxnard, Calif.

The Improved Hawk system utilizes advances in electronic technology and is a more accurate and reliable air defense system than its predecessor Basic Hawk, which it will replace in the NATO nations.

Ground support equipment in the system has also been updated with portions automated. A new electronic data processor, for example, will assist in target engagement functions.

Candidates Night Set By Council

On Monday evening, Feb. 11, the PTO Advisory Council will conduct an evening for candidates who will be running for school committee. The meeting, which will be held at West Junior High School, will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Barbara Moody will be moderator for the event. Mrs. Moody, a former Andover school committee member, holds a Masters degree in education. She is presently employed as a Guidance Counselor and financial aid officer at Lawrence General Hospital School of Nursing.

The candidates will each discuss in two minutes allotted time their position as it relates to the school committee. Then each will answer the following questions in three minutes:

What do you consider were the most important issues for this year's school committee and what would you consider to be the top priority issues for next year's committee?

The audience will then have an opportunity to participate with written, as well as oral questions.

Ushers for the evening will be student council members from Junior High East and Junior High West.

School Budget

recent information on the tax rate had indicated that they could go between $8.3 and $8.5 million and still not raise the rate.

The budget does carry three flagged items - plant operation, transportation and Program 766 - which the School Committee said are difficult to accurately predict at this time. The first two depend on the increase of fuel costs, and 766 depends on further guidelines on the state mandated program for children with learning problems. The School Committee has said it would go back to the Town for more funds if those budgeted aren't sufficient.

Discussion of the excluded items included Committeeman William Kings question, "If we're not going to go ahead with program assessment, why did we bother?" with the major internal assessment undertaken this fall.

"The administration's $43,000 request is obviously not enough," he went on, "but it's not a very meaningful approach if you say, we don't have enough so let's not take it at all."

Griggs added that not voting the additional funds would not mean that all of the results of program assessments would be negated.

The $18,000 Bancroft roof item was left out, with the condition that it could be inserted before the Town Meeting if further information warrants it.

Business Manager Ed Weil reported that there is "apparently no hope" that we can hold the architect responsible for consistent leaks in the roof. Town Counsel, he said, seems to feel that if any normally used material is used, the architect can't be held responsible.

The problem seems to be that the flashing is not wide nor flexible enough to expand and contract with the seasonal temperatures. Weil said that $3,000 had been spent on Bancroft roof repairs so far this year. In addition, he said, the leakage has been seriously damaging the rugs.

Lane added that the fact remains that the roof leaks and that "somebody has got to be grossly at fault here."

The $25,000 security item was originally to have been part of a two-year, $50,000 expenditure. But Lane recommended leaving it out because, he said, the administration hadn't yet spent this year's $25,000.

Weil said that a presentation on a complete security system, which would detect physical movement in the schools as well as heat and smoke, would be presented in a couple of weeks.

He said that vandalism costs the system roughly $10,000 a year. The practice of having custodians check the buildings twice on weekends could also add up to $10,000 a year, he said, and a security system, now estimated at $80,000, could pay for itself in as few as four years.

In the fixed assets department, Weil said replacement of equipment was badly needed, and he hoped to add $24,000 to the $36,000 already in the budget. He said he could spend $10,000 in East Junior High alone for student lockers. In addition, he said, playground equipment at most elementary schools was far less than minimal.

The administration will present a summary of the budget as sent to FinCom, at the next School Committee meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 20. Also at that meeting, results of Stanford Achievement Tests will be discussed.

Sunday Intramural Results

The halfway point in the season has now past with a strong Sabres Team leading by one point over the Seals and Bruins in the Sunday Intramural Hockey League. This Sunday all three of these teams won easily.

First the Sabres beat the Redwings 6 to 0 on a four goal output by Bruce Turgiss. Eric Brandt and Mark Guittar got the other goals while assists went to Brandt, Bob Best, Gary Milne and Colin Callahan. Jim Stamas, the Sabres goalie, registered his second shutout of the year. The Seals took the Northstars 5 to 1. The Seals goal scorers were Tom Glynn (2), Tom Laverack, Jim Shalhoup, and Joe Cahill with assists from Paul Bracken (2), Laverack, Shalhoup, and Peter Dunn. Seals goalie, Don Bliss, missed his fourth shutout of the season when Tom Fabiani scored on a Tom Rourke feed.

Finally, the Bruins beat the Blackhawks 6 to 1 on an unbelievable five goal scoring binge by Chris Doherty. The other Bruin goals belonged to Pete Huggins, with Phil Doherty, Scott Hubbell, Jerry Kearns, Joe Podgorski and Huggins getting assists.

Next Sunday morning's schedule at the P.A. Rink is as follows:

Northstars vs. Blackhawks - 5:45 a.m.

Sabres vs. Seals - 6:45 a.m.
Bruins vs. Redwings - 8: a.m.
